Description

This book by Prof. Francisco Leandro presents a timely and significant contribution to the understanding of this immensely important development. In particular, the study offers distinctive insights in four aspects of OBOR, namely, the multiple dimensions of the OBOR scheme, the security and geopolitical implications of OBOR, China's national interests, and the roles of the Special Administrative Regions of Hong Kong and Macao in OBOR. The book aptly explores this comprehensive security for all without losing sight of the interests of China. This book is a joint publication of the University of Macau, IEEM and IIM.
